GHCPRU stands for Global Humanitarian Crisis Prevention and Response UNIT. Popularly, known as UNIT, it is a British organisation with roots strongly grounded in the sense of responsibility towards the citizens of this planet irrespective of borders.

A global mixture of scientists, academics, diplomats and defence professionals, UNIT team has been working tirelessly to bring data from ground to the desks of key decision makers, in an effort to promote policies that are grounded in reality and which have the interests of civilian security at their core.

The Sense and Sensibility Conference would showcase key findings of UNITs work in 2024 in the context of the Russia-NATO-Ukraine war.
